Marginalia: A Panorama of Chilean Art and Historiography at the Turn of the Century

Workshop with Carla Macchiavello

Language : English

Free

Carla Macchiavello is an Assistant Professor in Art History at the Borough of Manhattan Community College, CUNY, New York. Originally from Chile, she received a PhD in Art History and Criticism from Stony Brook University in 2010 and worked as Assistant Professor in Art History (2010-2014) at Universidad de los Andes, Bogotá, Colombia. Her work centres on Latin American contemporary art with a focus on Chilean art; networks of solidarity and resistance; migrant identities in video art and documentary practices; appropriation and neocolonial violence; intersections between contemporary art and ecology; and the relations between art, politics, and performative practices.

Her work has been published in various journals including ArtMargins, Revista de Estudios Sociales, ERRATA#, seismopolite, and emisférica, as well as catalogues and edited books. She has been twice recipient of the CEDOC Artes Visuales essay prize for "Vanguardia de exportación: la originalidad de la 'Escena de avanzada' y otros mitos chilenos" (2011) and "Apropiaciones del sur del sur en el arte chileno de los noventa" (2016), and has worked as independent researcher for the Museo de la Solidaridad Salvador Allende, publishing with it the essays "Una bandera es una trama" (2012) and "Fibras resistentes: Sobre el/los/algunos Museos de la Resistencia" (2016) on the international networks of solidarity and resistance that helped build the Museum in the 1970s and 1980s. She is currently completing her book on Chilean conceptual practices and territorial discourses during the military dictatorship (forecoming with Metales Pesados). She is part of the editorial committee of Cuadernos de Arte and co-edits the periodical Más allá del fin/Beyond the End for Ensayos -a nomadic research program based in Tierra del Fuego, that brings together artists, social scientists, natural scientists, and local agents to engage in research and reflection on the political ecology affecting the archipelago.
